

Syracuse, July 12, 1852.

My dear Mr. Liberator:

I send you, this week, copies of my Letter on Koperth & his Mission, addressed to Gerrit Smith, & which, as you will see, was drawn out by his Letter on the same subject.

If I were not so preeminently a humble & obscure person,

I would ask you,
at your convenience,
to insert in the Lib-
erator.

I have read all
you have published on the subject with great interest &
delight; because,
however I may differ,
views which come
from hearty devotion to the cause of Human Rights, come like the bubbling of a clear

spring to a thirsty
man.

I am ever conscious,
that when I differ from others, & when those others are not only
upright, but so
overwhelmingly exceed me in ability,
I may be in the wrong. Yet I ever
form my own opinion, & tenaciously

ack on them, & tell the facts & my own reason demand a change.

Your life giving
motto - Free Discussion
- is to regenerate
this ~~murder~~ nation.

How much you are doing to uproot the miserable fallacy, that

Free Discussion means that we will hear that which we agree with!

As we are typos, I will say to you, that not one third of that letter was ever committed to paper, till by the prep.
